

NATIONAL BUILDING MUSEUM SELECTS HUNNYBUNNY BOUTIQUE, A DC-BASED SKINCARE LINE, FOR ITS OWN PRIVATE LABEL

hunnybunny

BOUTIQUE

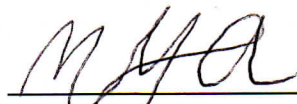

Date: November 19, 2018

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

(Washington, DC) – Today, Nya and Zuri Byers, the owners of hunnybunny boutique, were joined by representatives from the National Building Museum to shake hands and announce hunnybunny's selection as a new wholesaler and producer of the Museum's own private label. For hunnybunny boutique, A DC-based manufacturer and retailer specializing in all-natural bath and beauty products, this partnership marks the company's first partnership with a museum.

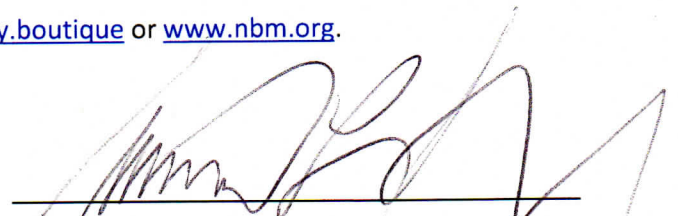

"I am oh so glad I am here today!," said Nya Byers, Owner. "I believe this business relationship will go very well!"

The historic home of the National Building Museum was built between 1882 and 1887 for the three distinct purposes: to house the headquarters of the United States Pension Bureau, to provide a suitably grand space for Washington's social and political functions, and to commemorate the service of those who fought on the side of the Union during the Civil War. hunnybunny boutique will now be sold in its gift shop. For more information, visit www.hunnybunny.boutique or www.nbm.org.

Nya Byers, Owner

hunnybunny boutique

National Building Museum Representative